

Julia Kirchweger

Head of Communications / Media Spokesperson

Julia Kirchweger is Head of Communications and Media Spokesperson of the Siemens Stiftung.

Siemens Stiftung promotes sustainable social development, which is crucially dependent on access to basic services, high-quality education, and an understanding of culture. Julia Kirchweger is involved in the development cooperation working area, which aims to reduce existential deficits in basic services and strengthen necessary social structures.

Prior to joining Siemens Stiftung in June 2011, Julia Kirchweger studied Media Economics and Journalism / Public Relations at the University of Cooperative Education in Ravensburg and received a master's degree in European Studies from the University of Hamburg. After beginning her career as a radio journalist, Julia Kirchweger took a position at the Council of the European Union in Brussels. She also worked for the Communications Department of the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA) in Parma, Italy, and as spokesperson for the EU Special Representative in Kosovo in Pristina before coming to Siemens Stiftung.